Multi-platform support

AnyDesk works across all your devices and operating systems:
Windows, macOS, iOS, Android, Linux, FreeBSD and even your Raspberry Pi!

AnyDesk Professional

Home Office

You want your office to be wherever you are? With AnyDesk's reliable remote desktop technology, working from home is almost like you're sitting in front of your PC at the office.

Connect from everywhere, on any device using Unattended Access. With virtually no latency and features like remote printing, accessing your work desktop feel like you're there. Be more productive in your home office while still working closely with your co-workers.

Remote Support

For large companies and startups alike, powerful remote assistance software allows you to provide exceptional customer service and fast problem-solving solutions from any location.

Particularly for software vendors or app developers, remote support and monitoring ensures you can easily solve complex customer and client issues from your central office.

Performance

Built by us, DeskRT is an innovative codec that forms the foundation of AnyDesk. It compresses and transfers image data between computers in a way that no competing product is able to do.

Perform tasks smoothly, even with bandwidths as low as 100 kB/sec. AnyDesk is the remote desktop software of choice for areas with poor internet connectivity.

Enjoy a fluent on-screen experience, with 60 fps on local networks and most internet connections.

Security

Banking-standard TLS 1.2 technology protects your computer from unauthorized access.

We use RSA 2048 asymmetric key exchange encryption to verify every connection.

Control who gains access to your computer by whitelisting trusted desks. This ensures that only those authorized to do so can request a connection.

Flexibility

Access your computer from your desk, your home office or the nearest meeting room, all with ease. Require unattended access while on the go? You'll just need to set a password.

Run AnyDesk on your chosen platform, be it Linux, Windows, Mac OS, FreeBSD, iOS or Android. Plus, use mobile apps at no extra charge.

Downloading AnyDesk is simple, even when you're on the go. At just 3MB, AnyDesk is considerably lighter than the competition.

Administration

Keep track of your contacts and connections with the built-in address book and see who's online without having to connect.

Swap out your AnyDesk ID for a personalized username and add a logo to bring your remote desktop software in line with your brand identity.

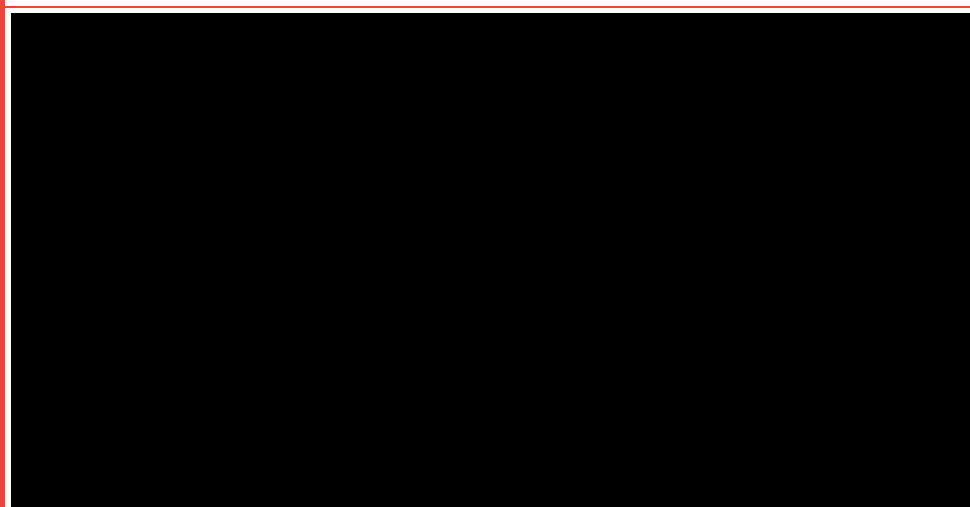

Use an MSI package to automatically roll AnyDesk out on multiple computers and configure all as needed. Or use the command line interface to script your own installation.

Licensing

AnyDesk licenses cover all future versions and we don't charge extra for updates. Plus, all program versions are compatible with one another.

As teams grow, their needs change - and so should the software they use. AnyDesk lets you start small and scale quickly, with sensible pricing for teams of all sizes.

We only charge for seats that are active at the same time, regardless of who is using them.
